

The Modified Major in Anthropology

The Modified Major in Anthropology consists of eleven courses, to be selected as follows:

1. An introductory course: ANTH 01, 03, 05, 06, 08, or 09.
2. Five additional Anthropology courses of your choosing, must include at least one course from TWO of the three subfields (ARCH, BIOL, CULT).
3. Four courses above the prerequisite level in one or more other departments or programs.
4. A Culminating Experience Seminar, which is designated by course numbers in the 70s, (e.g. ANTH 72 – ANTH 76). Seminars are usually offered in Fall and Spring terms.

Additionally, students wishing to modify their Anthropology major must submit a written rationale that makes clear the coherence and purpose of their modified major. This rationale must be reviewed by, and can be approved by, any faculty in the anthropology department, and must also be submitted to the Registrar. For more information on modified majors, see the ORC/Catalog.

If you are interested in pursuing the Honors Program and the faculty approves your thesis proposal, you must enroll in ANTH 88. This course would be counted as the twelfth course beyond the eleven required to complete the modified major.
